Wilderness and Climate Show

by award-winning nature filmmaker Jan Haft and the Orchestras of Change

Monday, September 1st 18:30 – 21:30, JMU Würzburg

"The Wilderness & Climate Show uses music, film and photography to show in an entertaining way how biodiversity and climate are inextricably linked. In a special way, it awakens desire and hope for a future worth living."

Orchestras of Change

The emotional power of music is the medium we use to reach and inspire people. Our common goal is to become active as musicians for the protection of the climate, nature and species. We want to address the climate crisis in unique concert formats.
